

BCcampus Book Club: The Open Edition

In Conversation with Dr. Seanna Takacs and Junsong Zhang

Helena Prins & Leva Lee

BCcampus

Hprins@bccampus.ca & llee@bccampus.ca

January 31, 2023

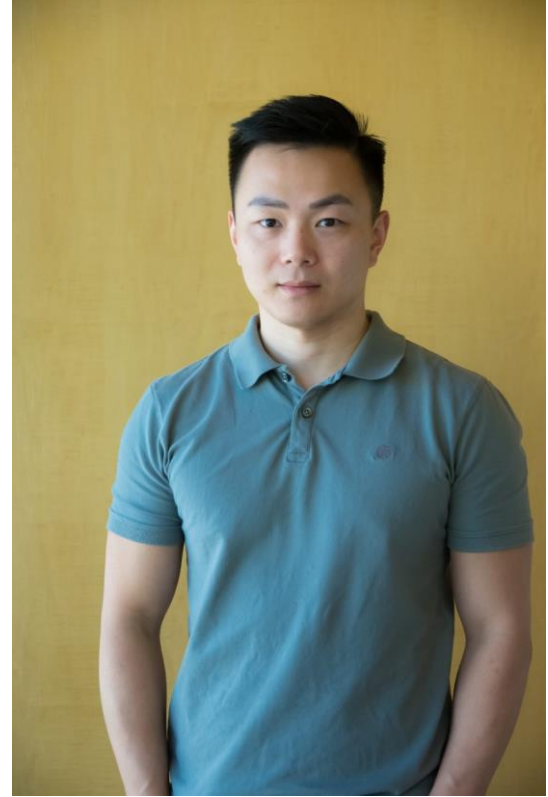

Territorial Acknowledgement

On a scale of goat, how are you feeling today?

In conversation with Junsong
Zhang & Dr.
Seanna Takacs

Poll: Who is in the room with us?

FACULTY OR SESSIONAL
INSTRUCTOR

INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGNER

ED TECH
DEVELOPER

ADMINISTRATION

OTHER

Looking Back

How did you become interested/motivated in UDL?

Looking Back

How did the two of you come to write this book
together?

Looking Back

What were some of the challenges and joys of publishing this book?

In the Present

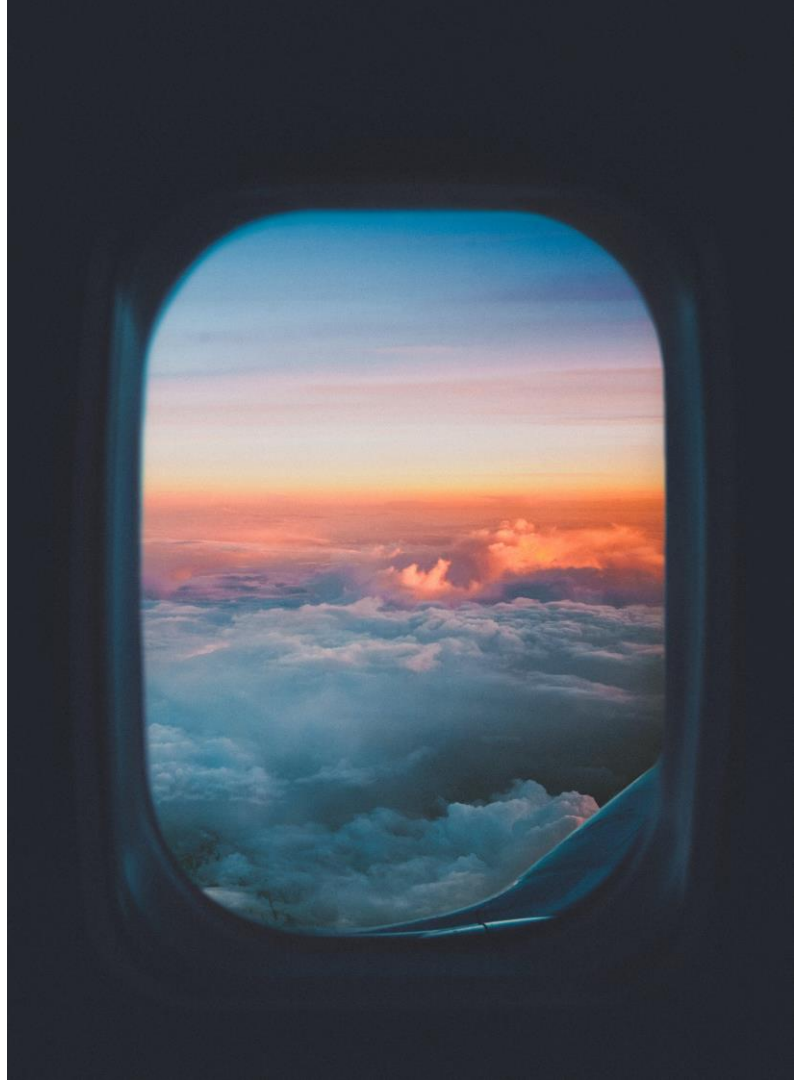

What excites you about what's happening in UDL and post-secondary?

Photo by Sasha Freemind on Unsplash

In the Present

Do people share their UDL impact stories with you?
Any current or recent story
come to mind?

Thinking about the future

For the next UDL book, what would be the topic?

What are the UDL areas that you think we need to explore more deeply and intentionally?

Book Club Reflections

Taruna asks...

<https://drive.google.com/file/d/1wHttxfCC4GvxmQMuveJaA7otxKEFqHZ4/view>

Poll: Two Truths and a Lie

A: When I was a kid, I was able to communicate with dogs just through eye contact.

B: My cousin was a competitive swimmer, and he has drawers and drawers of medals at home.

C: In high school, I told the entire class that one of my dreams is to own a horse farm.

Poll: Two Truths and Lie

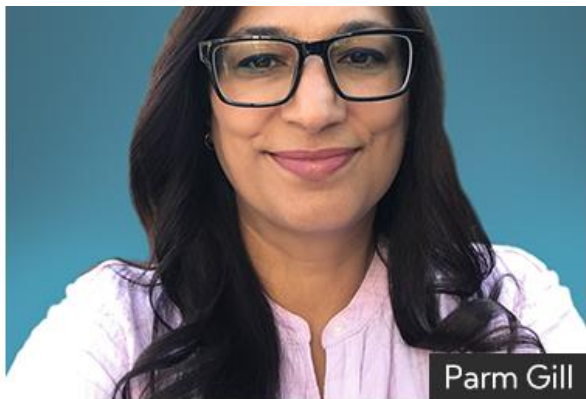

A: I can smell when people close to me are getting sick

B: One of my best memories is cliff jumping into the Ottawa River.

C: I met Wayne Gretzky at Maple Leaf Gardens.

It's YOUR turn! Q & A

Parm Gill

BCcampus

ONLINE BOOK CLUB

THE OPEN EDITION

Jan. | Feb. | March - 2023

Junsong Zhang

